FALL

D E D I C A T I O N

To the late Mrs. Lois McRoy Jones . . . One of God's Master Molders on Earth. She Molded Refinement from Human "Clay" Which Had Been Given Up as Incurrible by Others. Her Life Was Like
That of a Magnificent Concerto Improvised by a Master
Musician on a Stradivarius Violin, Whose Strings
Snapped at the Ultimate Crescendo.

SENIOR HIGHLIGHTS

The high and mighties of January, 1939, led by Blaz Cikoch, sponsored a skating party, celebrated Senior Day and held the Senior Prom during the last semester of their high school days.

Senior Day was celebrated on December 2, when the graduating class gave an assembly for the entire student body. Opening the program was a vocal group of low and high seniors, who sang several numbers, led by Mrs. Wilma Bash and Mr. Norman Pillsbury, music instructors. "The Martins and the Coys", a musical skit, was put on by Frances Haigh and Dorothy Rafael. The act was directed by Mrs. Lorinda Bugbee, pianist. Nina Penquite sang "I Won't Tell a Soul", and "Blossoms on Broadway". "Ferdinand the Bull" was dramatized by Laura Curto as the bull and Anita Ligouri as the matador, with the song sung by Fred Stockinger. Fourteen members of the dramatics class took part in the verse choir. A tango dance, taught by Miss Wilma Manning, was done by twelve seniors. Dorothy Rafael sang her farewell version of "Music, Maestro, Please". Closing the program was Blaz Cikoch, bidding the student body adieu on behalf of the graduating class.

Following the assembly the low seniors entertained their betters at a dance.

On the eve of January 13 the graduates held their biggest event of the term, the Senior Prom, the theme of the affair being Spanish. Taking charge of the prom bids was Frances Haigh, with Frank Aiello and Louis Celia assisting her.

The skating party held October 12 was planned by Ralph Mack, Walter Tomoff, Kay Mori, and Lawrence Donatelli.

Those who planned senior events of the term were Frances Haigh, Marie Barnett, Dorothy Rafael, Nina Penquite, Fred Stockinger, Blaz Cikoch, Peter Srsen, Kay Mori, and Lawrence Donatelli.

Out of thirteen offices in the Board of Commissioners this term five were occupied by the grads of January. Blaz Cikoch was student body president; Frances Haigh cared for the school's money; Lawrence Donatelli supplied the advertisements; and Kay Mori led the rooters in yells.

At commencement, Blaz Cikoch was named most worthy student of the term. Lawrence Donatelli received an award for art and advertising. Walter Pursley contributed to social studies, and Dorothy Rafael was thanked for her gracious service.

"—And to the battle they go Fighting mad—Ya-ha-ha-ha!"

McClymonds' 1938 Football Squad

FOOTBALL

Despite sport writers' comments that the McClymonds football team was the weakest in the O.A.L., the Warrior's coach, Mr. Richard Rodriguez, optimistically opined that the Indians were capable of winning the league championship. Although the Warriors actually ended the season with one victory and six defeats, they produced one of the most powerful defensive elevens in the loop.

McCLYMONDS 6, FREMONT 13: An inspired Warrior eleven nearly pulled an upset when they held a heavily favored Fremont team to two touchdowns and scored one themselves. The season's opener saw the Warriors outplaying the Tigers for three quarters; they were beaten in the final quarter when the Bengals tallied twice. The Indians scored first in the initial period on a blocked kick by Paul Kouns and Bob Silva, tackles. Louie Celia, guard, scooped up the ball on the opponents' 20-yard line and scampered unmolested across the goal line.

Ed Driskell

McCLYMONDS 0, ROOSEVELT 13: This battle, in which the Warriors received four injuries, was fought on Fremont's gridiron. Ralph Mack, co-captain, left the game of his own free will because of a back injury. His loss greatly decreased the Redskin's chances. The game was marred by fumbles on both sides. The Braves' best yardage gainer was a pass play of John Holmgren, halfback, to Peter Srsen, end.

McCLYMONDS 0, SAN LEANDRO 6: McClymonds' gridders were upset by San Leandro's Pirates on the Warriors' home grounds. The Frank Paich-to-Henry Ukai pass combination threatened to tally six points for the Redskins in the last few plays of the game, when McClymonds, in three downs, carried the pigskin 50 yards to the Cherrypickers' five-yard stripe. Then, with but enough time left to finish the last play, Paich took the ball and started a run around right end. When he saw his path blocked, he threw a pass to Mack, who made a sensational catch of a wildly thrown ball and fell over the goal line. However, Paich was not five yards behind the scrimmage line; therefore, the pass was nullified by the referee.

McCLYMONDS 0, CASTLEMONT 6: The Warriors lost, but outplayed the Castlemont squad from start to finish. It looked like the Braves would score in the first quarter when the McClymonds second string was replaced by the first string and commenced to take the ball down into the Castle territory. However, when the ball was on the two-foot line, the second string replaced the first and lost the ball on downs. The Knights made their score after the Braves' safety man dropped a punt and it was recovered by a Castle star. The first play on end around scored for the Crusaders.

McCLYMONDS 6, UNIVERSITY 12: The McClymonds-University tilt, played on Bushrod field, proved to be a thriller. The Mackmen received their score when Silva and Kouns, linesmen, broke through and blocked a Uni punt. Kouns fell on the ball over the goal line.

McCLYMONDS 0, TECHNICAL 6: McClymonds, by virtue of a very strong line, bogged down a Bulldog offense that was supposed to have scored at least four touchdowns. Tech scored early in the fourth period after the Warriors had made three gallant goal-line stands. Frank Porto, Tech backfield ace, dove over from the one-foot line on fourth down. Late in the last period, the Indians opened up with long passes. Srsen, end, caught two for 30 yards apiece, with Paich, quarterback, throwing beautiful passes; but the game ended as Paich threw a long pass to Srsen that sailed over his head.

McCLYMONDS 13, OAKLAND 6: The final game of the season between McClymonds and Oakland was considered a toss-up. McClymonds scored first in the second quarter. The climax came when Paich took the ball on a fake run and fired Srsen a pass. Aided by Henry Ukai's brilliant blocking, Srsen romped over standing up. Milton Alfier tried for the extra point, but was low. In the third period a fired-up Oakland team pushed a tired McClymonds team all over the field and, finally tied the score. With two minutes left to play in the game, Ukai intercepted an Oakland pass and ran it back 50 yards to the Wildcat 20. Here Francisco Pando, completely baffling the Oakland backfield, threw a pass to Ukai who was in the end zone. With Tony Lizaraga holding, Ukai kicked the extra point.

Individuals, top to bottom: Frank Pando, Peter Srsen, Kay Thayer, Robert Thomas, and Henry Ukai, co-captain

GIRLS' ATHLETICS COMMITTEE

Crew at Lake Merritt was the major sport for girls, with Susie Vartanian managing and Aurora Avila as assistant. A regatta and weenie roast to end the crew season were held at Lake Merritt in November. The winning boat was piloted by Margaret Munoz, with Grace Wilcox as coxswain.

Double and single paddle handball was played as a minor sport on Thursdays, with Julia Stramaglia in charge.

There were seven teams of basketball with each G.A.A. committee member acting as captain. The girls came out for basketball every Tuesday, rain or shine. Frances Solinas and Lorraine Celia were managers. The teams were "Flatfoot Floogies", "Row Boaters", "Rug Cutters", "Seven-Ups", "Susie Q's", "Debutantes", and "Jitterbugs".

On October 27, the Girls' Athletic Association held an after school dance. The orchestra stand was decorated with ships and flags in accordance with Navy Day.

Thursday, January 12, the Girls' Athletic Association held their semi-annual athletic award party, where many of the members received Block "M's" and Winged "M's".

The committee was supervised by Miss Ann R. Kramer, gym instructor.
